

December

Dear Parents/Guardians,

We hope that the mock examinations have been going well for your son/daughter and that all of the revision was supportive and beneficial. You should expect the English Language and Literature results to reach you during the final week of term. Teachers will go through the papers with the students and explore any errors and misunderstandings with their classes. It is essential that pupils make detailed notes during this feedback and reflect on their exams.

Over the Christmas holidays, a well-earned break is obviously recommended by the English department. Perhaps, your son/daughter could take some quiet time out amongst the Christmas chaos to have a re-read of the very festive A Christmas Carol or Great Expectations accompanied by a hot chocolate and a mince pie.

Finally, for the super eager, there are some additional revision tasks to complete online which will be live in a few days, once the mocks are nearing their end.

We wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year,

Ms Sarah Meredith

Assistant Head of Department
